

Alicia Hereford to be a Auburn Tiger

March 18, 2010 - Huntsville High School junior Alicia Hereford has committed to play college soccer for Coach Karen Hoppa's Auburn Tigers.

Though she entertained other offers, Alicia's heart always belonged to the Tigers. She made it official by giving Coach Hoppa her verbal commitment in January. She intends to sign a National Letter of Intent with Auburn in February of 2012.

Auburn fields one of the premier soccer programs in the SEC having won the conference's Western Division Championship in 7 of the past 10 seasons, including the most recent, 2010. The Tigers have been invited to the NCAA Tournament in each of the past five years. Alicia is thrilled to have the opportunity to play for Coach Hoppa and a program with a rich history of success, and looks forward to being a key contributor to the team's future championships.

Alicia becomes the second member of the HHS class of 2012 to commit to play college soccer, joining fellow junior Rachel Ames, who earlier gave her verbal commitment to Yale University.

Congratulations Alicia! You make us all proud to be Huntsville High Panthers!
